Dear FCC:

I am writing to complain about the proposed changes to the Universal Service Fund and requesting that the FCC investigate this matter further before changing the current policy. Your proposed $1.00 per month charge for all wireless phones will directly impact my ability to retain my wireless service.

I do not think it is fair to charge EVERYBODY $1.00 dollar regardless of how they use their wireless phone, especially for a low-volume user that relies on wireless service for safety and security, not interstate calls. The current policy is fair, based on interstate usage, and should be left alone. Please do not penalize us. Keep this fair.

My cell phones are prepaid and I use them primarily to keep in touch with my wife locally. I don't really use them that much. I don't see any reason why I should pay a $2.00 a month fee just to use them as little as I do. We use our land-based phones in home for all other calls - local and long-distance. Please reconsider correcting this in some other way to make this more fair. In this day of electronics, there must be a way that can be fair for all. This is done in other areas of our lives. Why shouldn't this be done here, also? Thank-you.
Gary Martin
